

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Health & Society Scholars Program

UW-Madison Population Health Course Development Competition

Awardees: 2007-2008

Name(s)	Proposed Course Home:			Course Type	Existing Course	Proposed Course Title
	School/College	Unit	Target Audience
1 Joan H. Fujimura , Prof of Sociology and STS, Department of Sociology and Holtz Center for Research on Science & Technology	inter-disciplinary		sociology and demography, anthropology, pop health, epidemiology, genetics and genomics, biology, medicine, public affairs, law, and bioethics	new		At the Intersection of Race, Biomedical Genomics, Population Health, and Society
2 Janet C. Gilmore , Assistant Professor, Dept of Landscape Architecture and the Folklore Program (with Drs. Margaret Nellis & Ruth Olson)	multi-disciplinary	Folklore Program, Psychology Dept	eventually other courses	new module		Creating a 'Food, Identity, and Health' Module for Use in Multi-disciplinary Courses
3 Alfonso Morales , PhD, Assistant Professor, Urban and Regional Planning	L&S	Urban & Regional Planning Dept		existing	URPL 590, Markets and the Food System	Public Health and Food Systems Planning: Evaluating Allied Interventions (new health-related interventions component of URPL 590, Markets and the Food System)
4 Jo Scheder , PhD, Senior Lecturer, Medical Anthropologist, Chican@ and Latin@ Studies Program	inter-disciplinary	Chican@ and Latin@ Studies Prog & Medical History and Bioethics Dept		new		Interdisciplinary Course: Latin@ Health
5 Stacey Schultz-Cherry , Assoc Prof (7/08) Medical Micro and Immunology; Peter Shult , Dir, Commnicbl Disease Dvsn and Emrgncy Lab Response, Wis State Lab of Hygiene, Clin Assoc Prof, MMI; William Weidanz , Prof, MMI	SMPH	Medical Microbiology & Immunology Dept	undergrad, grad, professional students; share course content via websites at Dept of MMI and Wis State Lab of Hygiene (for outreach to broader state and national public health and clinical audience)	"new" (expand the scope of MMI677)	Vaccines: Past, Present, and Future (MMI677)	Vaccines: Practical Issues for a Global Society
6 David L. Weimer , Prof of Political Science and Public Affairs; Robert M. La Follette School of Public Affairs	L&S	Poli Sci Dept		existing	PS 440: Health Politics and Policy	Adding Population Health Topics to PS 440: Health Politics and Policy (not offered since 1996)

Awardees: 2008-2009

Name(s)	Proposed Course Home:			Course Type	Existing Course	Proposed Course Title
	School/College	Unit	Target Audience
1 Sarah Davis , JD, MPA, Associate Director, Clinical Asst. Prof of Law, Ctr. for Patient Partnerships	Schools of Law, Medicine & Public Health, Nursing and Pharmacy		Grad and professional UW students	new	n/a	Leadership and Advocacy in Community Public Health
2 Stephen J. Ventura , PhD, Prof Enviro. Studies and Soil Science; Jeffrey S. Sledge , Outreach Specialist, Land Info and Computer Graphics Faculty and Ph.D. Candidate, Nelson Institute for Enviro. Studies	Grad School	Soil Science	life sciences, population health, environmental sciences, medicine, landscape architecture, and planning. Professionals: public health practitioners, scientists and program managers at public agencies, private sector planners, and developers.	new	n/a	Metrics for a Healthy City
3 Susan Yackee , PhD, Asst. Prof, Political Science and La Follette School of Public Affairs	L&S	Poli Sci. Dept.		existing	PS 401: The American Policymaking Process	The American Policymaking Process with two new components in health policy, population health, and health and society
4 Alfonso Morales , PhD, Asst. Prof of Urban and Regional Planning	L&S; CALS	Dept. of Urban and Regional Planning	multi-disciplinary, esp. dual Masters program in Urban and Regional Planning and Public Health	new	n/a	URPL 590: Planning for Ethnic and Racial Equity

Awardees: 2009-2010

Name(s)	Proposed Course Home:			Course Type	Existing Course	Proposed Course Title
	School/College	Unit	Target Audience

UW-Madison Population Health Course Development Competition

1	Albert Gunther , Prof, Dir of Grad Studies, Dept. of Life Sciences Comm	CALS	Life Sciences Comm Dept	Grad and Upper-Level Undergrad	new	n/a	Health Sciences Communication (LSC 875)
2	Richard Keller , Assoc Prof, Medical History and the History of Science; Gregg Mitman , Interim Dir, Nelson Institute for Environmental Studies and Prof, Medical History, History of Science, and Science & Technology Studies	SMPH	Medical History and Bioethics (Xlisted with Nelson Institute, Population Health Sciences, and International Studies)	Beginning Undergrad	new	n/a	International Health and the Global Environment: An Introduction
3	Laura Senier , Asst Prof, Community and Environmental Sociology, and Family Medicine	CALS	Community and Environmental Sociology (Xlisted with Sociology)	Advanced Undergrad (although grads may enroll)	existing	RS533	Community, Rural, and Public Health (C&ES533)
4	Shannon Sparks , Asst Prof, Human Development and Family Studies, and American Indian Studies Program	SoHE	Human Development and Family Studies (perhaps Xlist with Pop Health)	Advanced undergrad and Grad	new	n/a	Understanding Health Inequities in the United States

Awardees: 2010-2011

	Name(s)	Proposed Course Home:			Course Type	Existing Course	Proposed Course Title
		School/College	Unit	Target Audience
1	Alonso, Araceli , Associate Faculty, Senior Lecturer, Dept. of Gender and Women's Studies Collins, Jane L. , Dept. Chairperson, Dept. of Gender and Women's Studies	L&S	Department of Gender & Women's Studies	Undergraduate Students and Graduates Students in gender, health, global health, public health, population health, medical anthropology.	extension of existing	GWS533	Malaria: The Intersection of Health and Gender
2	DiPrete Brown, Lori , Associate Faculty, School of Medicine and Public Health, Assistant Director, Center for Global Health Witt, Whitney , Associate Professor, Department of Population Health Sciences.	SMPH	Population Health Sciences	Graduate students and upper-level Undergraduate Students	extension of existing	PHS 650 026	Global Public Health and Human Rights: Children in Vulnerable Situations
3	Grant, Monica J. , Assistant Professor, Dept. of Sociology	L&S	Sociology	Graduate Students	past (no longer offered)		Sociology (SOC 726)
4	LaGro Jr., James , Professor, Department of Urban and Regional Planning	CALS	Department of Urban and Regional Planning	Graduate Students	existing	URPL 590	Urban Design: Theory and Practice (URPL 605)
5	Sparks, Shannon , Assistant Professor, Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Assistant Professor, American Indian Studies Program	SoHE	American Indian Studies (certificate program)	Upper-division undergraduate-level course (also open to graduate students)	new		American Indian Health and Well-Being